

Higher Education: An International Perspective

Higher Education: An International Perspective

Richard P. Phelps
Greta L. Dietrich
Gabriele Phillips
Kevin A. McCormack

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
Introduction	1
Focus group of countries	3
Structure of this report	5
Sources of data	6
The structure of higher education systems	7
Chapter 1: Historical Background, Recent Trends, and Current Governance in Higher Education Systems
Historical background	19
Evolution of the university in Europe	21
United States	23
Russia	24
Japan	25
Recent trends in higher education systems	26
Massification	26
Diversification by institution type	29
Diversification by regionalization	35
Convergence	39
Governance in higher education	42
Degree of institutional autonomy	42
Private institutions and privatization	44
Summary	45
Chapter 2: Student participation in higher education
Trends in higher education participation	52
Levels of participation in higher education	54
Age transition characteristics	61
Student entry and re-entry into higher education	70
Admission practices	71
Ease of access to higher education	74
Composition of the higher education student population	77
The participation of female students	77
Foreign students	79
Number of institutions and average institution size	83
Summary	85
Chapter 3: Resources and expenditures
Financial resources and expenditures	91
Allocation of financial resources and expenditures	100
Human Resources	111
Summary	116
Chapter 4: Higher education outcomes
Higher education program completion	122
Higher education and labor market outcomes	135
Adult literacy by level of educational attainment	140
The intergenerational legacy of high educational attainment	144

Summary	148
Chapter 5: Research at higher education institutions
Background on the role of research in higher education institutions	153
Distribution of higher education research resources across countries	155
Summary	160
References	163
Appendix A: Basic reference tables
Table A.1: Typical graduation age, by level of higher education
Table A.2: Country financial statistics
Table A.3: Typical cumulative years of schooling by level of education
Table A.4: Typical starting age, by level of higher education
Table A.5: Typical graduation age, upper secondary level, first educational programs
Table A.6: Typical graduation age, upper secondary level, second educational programs
Table A.7: Background information on eligibility requirements for scholarships and grants: 1994-1995
Table A.8: University and non-university higher education degrees awarded in selected countries
Appendix B: Detailed tables
Tables B1.1-1.3: Chapter 1 tables
Tables B2.1-2.19: Chapter 2 tables
Tables B3.1-3.16: Chapter 3 tables
Tables B4.1-4.23: Chapter 4 tables
Tables B5.1-5.3: Chapter 5 tables
Appendix C: Technical notes
Note on the number and size of institutions
Note on enrollment and completion ratios
Note on expenditure comparisons
Note on apprenticeship in the United States and Germany	